2009 CABB AHT STUDENT AWARD

One of the CABB's mission statements is to advance veterinary medicine through educating veterinarians and animal health technologists (AHTs) in transfusion medicine.

Every year the CABB awards a graduating AHT student who has shown proficient blood-banking skills based on several components.

Based on these deciding factors, two recipients were chosen. The CABB was pleased to recognize and award Heather Laurie and Annette DeWit with a framed certificate and cheque for $250 each at their graduation ceremony.
